Counsel Forbids Becker to Testify

YANKEE GO FERS TRUMPH

SANDWICH, Eng., May 19.—Arthur G. Lockwood of Boston, Mass., and "Chick" Evans, former Western champion of the U. S. A., today cheered the hearts of the Americans, following the British amateur championship golf tourney, by winning their matches in the second round.

Lockwood beat R. W. Crummett of England one up in their match. As Lockwood had a bye yesterday this was technically his second round and he was the first American to go through that round successfully, eliminating his English competitor.

Lockwood played a clear, steady game. His approach shots and putts were consistently good. There was keen interest in this match, which attracted a large gallery.

EVANS LEAD OUT.
"Chick" Evans, the famous American, played a strong game against C. Bretherton of England and was Harold H. Hilton, present British champion, did not difficulty with the Hon. E. R. Theisinger and won comfortably, six up and four to play. It was the general opinion of the experts that Hilton would again capture the title unless Francis Ouimet can win through to the final.

Robert Harris beat J. Chrysler eight up and seven to play. Finally, one up at the end of the first nine holes. It was Evans' second round, too. He won two up and one to play.

Fraser Lyle, of the United States, also in his second round, playing Ivor Whitten, the Australian open champion, was in trouble and was one down at the turn.

Belief of the experts that C. A. Palmer's defeat of Jerome Travers, the American amateur champion, was in the nature of a fluke, was borne out today when Palmer was put out of the tournament by Philip Carr. Palmer lost the match on the nineteenth hole, the two men being all-square at the end of the regular eighteen holes.

DEFENCE TO RELY ON ALBION

NEW YORK, May 19.—Attorney Martin T. Manton, chief counsel for the defense, announced today that ex-territorial Charles Becker would not take the witness stand in his second trial for the murder of Rosenthal. This decision is said to have been reached over the protest of Becker and his wife.

After making this announcement Attorney Manton moved to dismiss the indictment against his client on the ground that no evidence corroborates the stories told by "Bald Jack" Rose, "Bridge" Wabbar, and Harry Vallon had been presented by the State.

Justice Seabury denied the motion and refused to discharge Becker from custody.

Manton then made his opening address to the jury, in which he asserted that the evidence presented by the State had not weight enough to convict Becker.

NO EVIDENCE PLEA.
"Under our system of jurisprudence it is necessary for the State to offer positive proof of the guilt of the defendant," said Mr. Manton. "I believe the evidence so far has not been sufficient to establish the guilt of the defendant, Charles Becker."

"We will admit that Rose was an intimate friend of Becker, that he was a stool pigeon and that Becker used him for that purpose, and gave him money with which to collect evidence against gambling houses."

"Becker first met Rosenthal at the Elks Club on New Year's Eve. There was no drinking, nor was there any conversation as has been testified to. After that Becker met Rosenthal at the Union Square Hotel, for Becker

HUBERT SUMMONS LA BARRA

VERA CRUZ, May 19.—Mexican newspapers in Vera Cruz announced today that Francisco de la Barra had been summoned by President Huerta from France to become his successor.

They state that the announcement is based on "reliable advices from Mexico City."

De la Barra has served as provisional president of Mexico and has held high positions in official and diplomatic corps.

That the coils are tightening around Huerta was learned from two sources today. In April, Francisco Huerta's former Minister of the Interior, said that he expected a "great crash" in the capital within eight days, and that players received advice stating that Huerta's personal bodyguard had thinned.

The members of the bodyguard were known as the National Palace Lancers. The circulation was affected a year ago. The Lancers refused to go to fight the rebels and were either arrested or took to flight.

General Blanquet, Minister of War, said today that no general escape meant had yet taken place in battle.

The government is making war material and soldiers into battle. General Olvera, with 1000 men, arrived yesterday in Saltillo, having left San Luis Potosi two days before. The forces of General Zama, who had been operating on the San Luis Potosi-Tampico road, have been concentrated in San Luis Potosi.

40,000 MEN ENGAGED
IN THE GREAT BATTLE
AROUND SALTILLO

JUAREZ, Mexico, May 19.—More than 40,000 Mexican soldiers are believed to be engaged in a death grapple about Saltillo that will determine the fate of Victoriano Huerta.

The censorship was clamped down today over the rebel telegraph lines, and it is thought here that General Villa is following the same course that he pursued at Terres, when he refused to let press dispatches through before he had won victory.

Among the Confidentialist's office here opinion is openly expressed that Villa has buried his 25,000 men against the 12,000 Federal defending Saltillo, but they are wholly in the dark as to the progress of the battle.

Purchase Dedham Street Car Line

The Dedham & Franklin Street Railway Company has been purchased by H. M. Merrill of Portland, Me., and R. H. Johnson of Cambridge for $100,000. Their bill has been approved by Eugene H. Maiber, receiver, and Judge Hammond of the Supreme Judicial Court has ordered a decree authorizing the sale. The purchasers assume the $100,000 of 5 per cent. gold bonds issued by the company in 1910. They also agree to pay in addition $14,322.93 representing the unpaid interest and overdue coupons. The road is nine miles long. It extends from Dedham to Medford.

$50,000 Fire Loss in Providence Plant

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 19.—Poor water pressure was responsible for a $50,000 loss when the Bourn Bunker Company's plant caught fire early today. Florence Warner, a girl employee, was cut off on the second floor and jumped, sustaining dangerous injury. Other girls fled to the streets in time. Eight cottages across the street and in the neighborhood ignited.

Naval Men Laugh at Whiskey Poster

WASHINGTON, May 19.—An enterprising whiskey firm has taken a claim at Secretary Daniels' "dry navy" order. Their posters on billboards all over Washington explaining the adaptability of the liquor "for the home, for the club, for the army and navy" now have three black lines drawn through the word "navy" and naval men at the Capital are laughing at the Secretary's expense.

False Teeth Worth $25 in Haverhill

HAVERHILL, May 19.—The Municipal Council in passing a bill of Superintendent Savage, has decided that $25 is the proper price for a set of false teeth for an inmate of the City Farm. The teeth were made for a woman who lost here following an operation.

Beachey Uncovers New Flying Stunt

CHICAGO, May 19.—Lincoln Beachey performed what is said to be an aerial world better here. He called it "working the loop." When up 200 feet he dropped to earth in a few seconds after turning three successive somersaults.

Fairview Hotel Burns at Stoughton

STOUGHTON, May 19.—Fire early today destroyed Fairview Hotel, Harry Press, proprietor, and his wife, the only occupants, escaped. The loss is $25,000.

STRIPPED SIPS CABLE BOY SAYS DATE OF DREAM

BALTIMORE, N. S. May 18.—How little Prince, the Belgian cabin boy, had a dream, before sailing on the Columbus, that the boat would be burned and that the men would be rescued after fourteen days, was told today by First Officer Robert Tiers and Peter Belanger, two of the four survivors of the crew of the third boat brought here by the United States revenue cutter Seneca.

The boy was the last to die. He did not live to see the shipwreck. He left the Columbus, clad only in a thin suit of trousers, and although the others did their best to save him he could not be rescued. He was a few hours before the fire-boat was sighted by the Seneca. The brave little fellow, last thought was of his mother, and he cried out to her as the land of death closed his eyes.

The four survivors in the hospital here are reported to be in a critical condition today. First Officer Tiers, the twenty-two-year-old hero of one of the most dramatic rescues in maritime history, will never walk again. Both of the feet were crushed by exposure and gangrene developed. Peter Belanger, of Sherbrooke, Canada, the only other one of the survivors who spoke English, is said to be near death. He is utterly exhausted and the exposure and the roughness to which he was subjected may prove fatal. Both Great Kendall and Michael Ladwig, the remaining survivors, have high temperatures, but their condition is not so critical.

The four men passed through sixteen days of horror. They were in the open sea without food or water. By one of their companions, the scenes they were forced to witness almost drove them out of their minds. Several of the men in the boat went crazy from delirium and from the fear of quenching their thirst.

Seaman Jakob became a raving maniac. He seized an axe and tried to slay the others. He was held back by the others. He was then taken to the hospital. Belanger awoke and awoke Tiers, Kendall and Ladwig. The axe was terrible battle-scarred. The axe was finally thrown from the boat. The men and Ladwig were killed with an axe. He was tied in the bow of the boat and died in a delirium.

Vera Cheberiak Said to Have Confessed to Ritual Slaying

BERLIN, May 19.—It is learned from a reliable source that Vera Cheberiak, a Russian refugee, living in Paris and well known in the Russian colony here, has obtained a sworn statement from her lawyer, N. H. Hirsch, to this effect: Vera Cheberiak admitted she herself killed young Yashinsky, the son of a Russian official, in the city of Moscow, in a "ritual murder." Mendel Belin was accused. The Russian woman swears Cheberiak paid her passage to America to get her out of the city.

Francis Omet and Frederick Herreshoff will not compete in the row when they will play off their second round matches.

Though Hall won his match with MacDonell, his poor game eliminated him in the view of the experts from all possibilities of being the title winner. He was beaten almost all the way and captured the match only with a perfect putt on the last green.

Lionel Smith, the Irish star, who is playing in this tournament under the name of O. J. Smith, has been pulled off an unexpected victory in the tournament. C. A. Palmer, the American champion, was beaten by Smith in a match which took place on Sunday.

DELOREY'S SALES RECORD OF THE COURT HOUSE IS TOLD

"Peter Delorey told the truth when he confessed that Jim Maitland killed Annie Mullins."

"He told the truth, if he ever told it in his life. It is his own fault. He would be there if he hadn't been ill-advised."

Mrs. Elizabeth K. Delorey of West Billerica gave emphasis to every word as she made this declaration at her home today.

She told the story a year after the tragedy. Her revelations, followed by an alleged confession by her nephew, sent Delorey to the State Prison for eighteen years and Maitland his life. In today's statement to the AMERICAN she breaks the silence in the Mullins case the first time in five years.

Counsel for the prisoners and police officials in Cambridge claim Mrs. Delorey's narrative is fiction and that Peter Delorey's "confession" was forced out of him by unfair third grade methods.

More Patriots Fight for the Breeze

Thousands of loyal citizens are daily responding to the AMERICAN's appeal for a general flag raising. One out of the flag and flag it is to the breeze. Let Old Glory fly from your home. Remember that the boys are at the front to fight for it and they need to give up their lives for it. Show to your next-door neighbor that you are loyal to the colors. From all over New England letters are pouring in from friends and neighbors telling of flag demonstrations upon the streets. In number.

Miss Nellie Dean of Emerald street, South End, is one of the latest to join in this patriotic movement. She says: "I'm proud to say I have a great heart about the battle of Virginia which called for Mexico. It is willing to give up his life as did my grandfather."

ATTENTION, Mayor Curley No. 17.

If you had made as good a contract for the people of Boston with the Electric Light Company, as the city of Kansas City made with its Electric Light Company, Boston would save about one million four hundred and sixty-three thousand dollars during the period of the contract which you wish to fold upon Boston. This great sum saved by the city would give more than one thousand nine hundred and fifty workmen a full year's employment.

Would you have been elected Mayor, Mr. Curley, if you had told the people of Boston that you considered the 15 per cent. dividends of the Edison Electric Light Company more sacred than the bread and butter of the clerk, the laborer, the policeman, the fireman, the matron employed by the city, whom you have reduced or discharged, or more sacred than the pleasure and health which the citizen enjoys from their parks and public buildings, which your false economy tends to cripple?

STAYFORD, Ct., May 18.—Attracted by fumes from the house of Mr. and Mrs. George Wood of High Ridge, N. Y., five miles north of here, broke into the Wood cottage about 5 o'clock this morning. Lying on the floor in a bedroom beside a burning bed, the couple had been killed with the charge of a shotgun. On the burning bed was Mrs. Wood, her flesh seared with flames and part of her breast shot.

The authorities are satisfied that Wood murdered his wife, first setting the house on fire, and then shot himself. He used a double barreled shotgun. The couple had not been living happily together.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Bullets tore nearly thirty holes in the Roman Catholic institutions by the city of New York. The city was a scene of the late Bishop Dennis J. Dougherty, who died on May 18, and had an estate valued at $1,000,000. The city is now in mourning.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Fifty fire fighters, among them Chief Kenyon, were made unconscious by fumes while battling with a blaze in the building covering a block on Greenwich street, between Deane and West streets, today. Twenty were badly overcome that they were taken back to their quarters and Chief Kenyon was taken to the hospital. The property loss was $25,000.

PARKS' BODY WAS BURNED, DECLARES EYEWITNESS

KERR DARES MEXICAN ATTORNEYS TO PROVE SON

By N. A. JENNINGS.

VERA CRUZ, May 18.—An American business man who has just arrived here from Mexico City, brings the story of an eyewitness to the death of Private Parks. This witness, who is in extreme danger in Mexico City, and whose name cannot be divulged, says he spent the night in the same inn with Parks at Vera Cruz. The latter said his name was Parks of the Twenty-eighth Regiment.

"I heard a Mexican officer say to a private that he did not know whether to shoot Parks and keep the horses or send the horses to the horses to keep the horses. If he sent the horses to the horses he thought he would get promotion. He finally decided to send the horses and kill Parks. This witness is quoted as saying:

"He also said that Parks was killed at a school in the morning. The witness saw someone pour over the body which was then buried. The witness is being watched in Mexico City by secret service men and is afraid to leave.

All hope that Parks had escaped death was destroyed today when the two horses he had with him when he disappeared were returned to the American forces without any explanation as to Parks.

The horse belonged to Lieutenant Colonel F. T. Tamm, of the Twenty-eighth Infantry. They were sent by train from the Federal headquarters at Saltillo.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Robert J. Kerr, the civilian appointed Governor of Vera Cruz by Rear Admiral Fletcher after the American occupation, has a tale of Mexican horrors, which he proposes to tell President Wilson today.

"I have been in Mexico for fourteen years and I have become convinced that they are so atrocious," he declared today. "The indignities Americans have suffered in Mexico are almost impossible to believe. If all were known, the American people would rise in anger and demand retribution."

"I have been in Mexico for fourteen years and I have become convinced that they are so atrocious," he declared today. "The indignities Americans have suffered in Mexico are almost impossible to believe. If all were known, the American people would rise in anger and demand retribution."

"There is no doubt that Private Parks was killed in cold blood. He was shot some time after he rose into the Mexican lines outside of Vera Cruz. He was captured, his body mutilated and afterward burned. When the fact transpired, the people of this country will be rightfully incensed."

"General Huerta can hold out for as long as he wants, but he can't stand up to the law in the city of Mexico and there he can make a very good stand. It is going to be a very difficult undertaking to discipline him. He is a very good man and we cannot get rid of him easily."

FLANNIGAN, U. S. A.

Photograph taken for the Boston American of youngest member of the U. S. force at Vera Cruz.

The youngest member of the U. S. force at Vera Cruz, Michael Flannigan, of Company I, of the Seventh Infantry at Texas City made much a hit with the soldiers that he was adopted as the mascot of the members. He called himself Michael Flannigan, and declared he had been orphaned through the sinking of the Titanic.

After the work of policing Vera Cruz was begun by Uncle Sam's boys in blue, unofficially orders were given to Flannigan to maintain order among the Mexican boys who remained in the city. The photograph shows the youngest member of the United States army with two friends he has made since the invasion.

URRUTIA FLEES FOR LIFE TO GERMAN SHIP

By CHARLES MICHELSON.

Special Staff Correspondent of the American.

VERA CRUZ, May 18.—Dr. Aurelio Urrutia, ex-Minister of the Interior in the Cabinet of President Huerta, fled to the German liner Tigris today under guard of American soldiers to escape assassination at the hands of Mexican forces who hold him responsible for the murder of relatives or friends at the capital.

Urrutia came here from Mexico City to escape execution by Huerta, who has turned against him. Yesterday afternoon he was met by Mexican forces who wished to kill him.

General Fugate decided that the situation was becoming too dangerous to permit Urrutia's remaining ashore, and ordered him taken under guard to the Tigris, the ship where he fled with a cargo of ammunition. Urrutia was taken to the Tigris in a cage under the vessel's flag. He undoubtedly had been assassinated if there had been a moment's relaxation in the military precautions that General Fugate took as soon as he learned that the ex-minister had arrived. The Tigris contains many men who blame the surgeon-politician for the deaths of the brothers and fathers in Mexico City.

I. C. S. Students Earn While They Learn

Only one person in 50 is able to secure a high-school training; only one in 200 has a college education.

Both of these classes require special training. Their previous education has been general in its character. They must do one thing better than some one else to earn a salary that is worth while.

To these and to the rest—to the boys and men who must work and learn—the International Correspondence Schools offer a practical, specialized training that universities, colleges and trade schools cannot give.

If you are in the ambitious class—if you want to be more useful to yourself, your world and your work—mark the coupon and let us tell you how you can learn to earn more in the kind of work that you prefer.

BEVERIDGE SCORES WILSON-BRYAN A-B POLICY IN MEXICO
INDIANAPOLIS, May 18.—Albert J. Beveridge, former United States Senator, now a candidate on the Progressive ticket for that office, scored the Mexican policy of the administration at a dinner of the Indiana Progressive Club here. He advocated a constructive policy by this government, and asserted that recent Mexican incidents had indicated that the United States had lost its place as first place of the Western Hemisphere.

REPORT SHOWS FEWER STRIKES IN THE STATE

Gratifying reduction in the number of Massachusetts strikes and strikers for the first four months of 1914, compared with the same period a year ago, is reported in a statement issued today by the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration.

In the first four months of 1913 there were reported fifty-nine strikes of twenty-five or more workers involved; in the same period this year there were only forty-five strikes of this size.

In the 1913 period there was 16,529 strikers out in these fifty-nine strikes; in 1914 there were only 4,669 strikers out in forty-five strikes.

Number of strikes of twenty-five workers or more: 1913, 59; 1914, 45. Number of strikers out in April, 1913, 2,915; 1914, 1,328.

The State Board assigns as reasons for this decrease its policy of daily newspaper advertising of the advantages of peaceful methods and its vigorous follow-up system.

Teachers' Union Plan Is Crushed

CLEVELAND, May 18.—The Board of Education took drastic measures to crush the efforts of the women teachers in the grade schools of the city to form a labor union. The board, by a vote of 4 to 3, passed a resolution declaring that membership in a labor union shall be regarded as a breach of the contract of employment with the Board of Education and the equivalent of a resignation.

LOOK FOR GOOD FISHING IN THE CHARLES BASIN

Secretary Rogers of the Metropolitan Park Commission said today that, while he couldn't guarantee that while he couldn't catch a lot of fish in the Charles River Basin this summer, still "There are fish in the Basin and the fishing ought to be good."

Announcement that the Basin will be open to fishermen, under a few restrictions, from June 1 to November 1—and after June 26 for bass—interested all the local anglers of the Metropolitan District today.

"I can't tell from my own experience, of course, just how the Basin fishing will be," said Secretary Rogers. "The Basin has been closed for five years. But the Basin was well stocked with brown trout, white perch, bass, sunfish and catfish." The commission announced some simple rules that will govern the fishing. Fishing between the Cottage Farm bridge to the dam will be permitted from June 1 to November 1. Fishing is forbidden from the embankment or espalade or from the floats and landings on the Boston side of the basin between the Cambridge bridge and the Charlestown West, including the floats and landings lying west of the Charlestown West on the Boston side.

Fishing is allowed from the shore below the Cambridge bridge and on the Charlestown side. The rules further forbid the use of nets, seines, trawls and set lines. Hunt each fisherman to one hook and line and provide that all fishing must be in accordance with the fish and game laws of the State. The catch allowed any fisherman in a day is ten fish of a kind, except that 25 minnows may be taken.

THE "PINK LADY" IS IN GRAND OPERA

By FREDERICK JOHNS.

PARIS, May 18.—The "Pink Lady" has gone into grand opera and is the latest addition to the ranks of the Boston Opera Company, now arriving in Paris.

Cecil Cunningham is the pink lady. She succeeded Hilda Dawn in the role in New York and played the title role in that rollicking musical comedy all through the West.

But now the "Pink Lady" is all for the grand opera.

"I have canned that stuff for good," she remarked, referring to her musical comedy career, "and it's no use for the real thing. Not wishing Gertrude Farrar or Tetrazini any harm, they had better clear the track, for I am coming."

Cecil Cunningham is a real pink lady. Her hair is as red as the sunset on the Atlantic, her temperament as temperamental as a storm on the same sea. It was on the broad Atlantic that Cecil adorned that low-cut opera and definitely entered upon a career with a big C.

DISCOVERED BY RUSSELL.

Miss Cunningham, when the "Pink Lady" went to the storehouse, engaged herself in the leading role of "The Wedding Night," which didn't last very long. Then she was favored with a music hall offer from dear old London, and grasped it firmly in her bly white hand. Accordingly she took passage for London, and by chance crossed on the Olympic, the celebrated vessel which was conveying Henry Russell and Felix Wingard to the continent.

Henry was on his way to Paris to prepare for the Boston Opera season there and he wanted to see all. Neither was Miss Cunningham. So one day when the Olympic was misbehaving he happened into the stateroom just as Miss Cunningham was doing a few things to the grand piano and accompanying herself with her voice.

"Mr. Russell was impressed by her voice. Also by her red hair and blue eyes. He introduced himself."

"You are a remarkable voice," he said.

"Tell me something I don't know," responded Miss Cunningham, and introduced herself, and the battle was on.

In about half an hour Russell had convinced the pink lady that he was wanting her career, and instead of going to the London music halls, she ought to join his company, beginning with minor roles and preparing for a sensational grand opera future.

NACHWIEF TO ART.

So that's how Miss Cunningham happened to come to Paris instead of London, and why she is busy rehearsing every day with the Boston Opera artists for less a week than she would get in a night in London at the halls. One has to make some sacrifices to art, Miss Cunningham explained, as she took a string of red hair and tried to make it curl around her left ear the way the curls on the grand boulevard do.

Just as she was just studying to be one of the flower maidens in "Parafal," which Russell intends to give here in June.

"Par" he it from me," remarked Miss Cunningham, "to know that I was, who certainly was one well little musician. But if he had known who was going to sing the third flower maiden in Parafal, he would surely have given me something to sing. However, now I begin to sing."

"How do you like Paris?" she was asked.

"Pretty good, only I don't know how to read the bill of fare and the Lord knows what I get to eat. I've had everything else every night when I go into the restaurant. I really feel a little queer at the water here, but I put my finger on the bill of fare and I found it all right."

"Still it's one nice town. The only girl friend I have here is a Hungarian and we get together in German."

CECIL CUNNINGHAM, "Pink Lady," who was "discovered" by Henry Russell and who is now with Boston Opera Company in Paris.

By S. C. FORBES.

Mr. Forbes, it is folly to trample on the weak simply because they are weak?

You are careful enough not to tread on the toes of the strong, aren't you?

Why not mix a little humanity with your expediency in dealing with your different classes of employees?

"We are not conducting a philanthropic institution—business is business," do you retort?

True, the old reasoning was that business was a form of war, a fight, and that war was what Sherman called it. Bravo, anything and everything was permissible.

But we have advanced beyond that stage in mankind's progress toward civilization and the brotherhood of the human species.

Even in war certain rules are laid down, and honored.

Can business afford to lag behind?

Is not time corporations of all kinds and also individual employers learned that it is bad business to be unfair, to be cruel, to be inhospitable to fellow mortals simply because they seem themselves defenseless?

Or, to be more specific: Why do many railroads, traction companies, industrial corporations, manufacturers, mill owners, mine owners, mercantile establishments, financial firms and institutions and other interests draw a sharp line between their unorganized and uneducated employees? Why do they miserably underpay and overwork the former when they dare not touch their treatment upon union workers?

That such conditions exist will not be denied, I take it.

Mr. Employer, if you are guilty of such conduct you are on the wrong track. It is not only wrong morally, but it is shortsighted economically.

WILL, WALK, AND IF PROSECUTED BY, WILL WRECK THE WHOLE PRESENT ECONOMIC SYSTEM.

I don't want to preach humanity; I want merely to rub in a little common sense, or business, or economic sense, call it which you will.

The weak link in our social-economic chain is the submerged tenth, the half-starved, underpaid, slave-driven, unorganized, defenseless section of our working people.

"How do you like Paris?" she was asked.

"Pretty good, only I don't know how to read the bill of fare and the Lord knows what I get to eat. I've had everything else every night when I go into the restaurant. I really feel a little queer at the water here, but I put my finger on the bill of fare and I found it all right."

"Still it's one nice town. The only girl friend I have here is a Hungarian and we get together in German."

Couple Fined for Neighborhood Row

Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Fleming of No. 33 Nonantum place, Newton, and William H. Wallace of Washington street, Newton, were in Newton court today as a result of a neighborhood dispute over land. Last night Fleming and Wallace got into an argument about the boundary line. A fight followed, in which, it is alleged, Mrs. Fleming came to the defense of her husband. In court Fleming testified: "My wife said: 'Don't be a coward, Albert. Hit him.' So I did. The affray cost Fleming $10 and his wife $10. Both appeared. To court Wallace displayed two colored eyes.

Why not mix a little humanity with your expediency in dealing with your different classes of employees?

"We are not conducting a philanthropic institution—business is business," do you retort?

True, the old reasoning was that business was a form of war, a fight, and that war was what Sherman called it. Bravo, anything and everything was permissible.

But we have advanced beyond that stage in mankind's progress toward civilization and the brotherhood of the human species.

Even in war certain rules are laid down, and honored.

Can business afford to lag behind?

Is not time corporations of all kinds and also individual employers learned that it is bad business to be unfair, to be cruel, to be inhospitable to fellow mortals simply because they seem themselves defenseless?

Or, to be more specific: Why do many railroads, traction companies, industrial corporations, manufacturers, mill owners, mine owners, mercantile establishments, financial firms and institutions and other interests draw a sharp line between their unorganized and uneducated employees? Why do they miserably underpay and overwork the former when they dare not touch their treatment upon union workers?

That such conditions exist will not be denied, I take it.

Mr. Employer, if you are guilty of such conduct you are on the wrong track. It is not only wrong morally, but it is shortsighted economically.

WILL, WALK, AND IF PROSECUTED BY, WILL WRECK THE WHOLE PRESENT ECONOMIC SYSTEM.

I don't want to preach humanity; I want merely to rub in a little common sense, or business, or economic sense, call it which you will.

The weak link in our social-economic chain is the submerged tenth, the half-starved, underpaid, slave-driven, unorganized, defenseless section of our working people.

So that's how Miss Cunningham happened to come to Paris instead of London, and why she is busy rehearsing every day with the Boston Opera artists for less a week than she would get in a night in London at the halls. One has to make some sacrifices to art, Miss Cunningham explained, as she took a string of red hair and tried to make it curl around her left ear the way the curls on the grand boulevard do.

Just as she was just studying to be one of the flower maidens in "Parafal," which Russell intends to give here in June.

"Par" he it from me," remarked Miss Cunningham, "to know that I was, who certainly was one well little musician. But if he had known who was going to sing the third flower maiden in Parafal, he would surely have given me something to sing. However, now I begin to sing."

LEONARD'S FACE DETROIT IN 2D BATTLE

With two shutouts against the Tigers to their credit, and Dutch Leonard on tap today, things are naturally looking rosy for the Red Sox camp. The star young southpaw, who has not been scored on for his last two starts and who has allowed just four runs in six games this season to date, will be sent out to try and keep the Tigers away from the Boston Sox.

The in - five manner in which both Cobb and Foster applied the brush to league leaders leads to the belief that the Red Sox, as soon as they start hitting, will be very much in the American League battle. With Joe Wood ready to jump in any new and pitch, they sure have a sweet pitching staff. And further, the advent of a little warner will naturally bring speaker, Lavitt, and some of the other hitters back to life.

BASEBALL NEWS AND NOTES

CLARK GRIFITH IS FOLLOWING CUNNINGHAM'S lead and is going after the Sox. He has been a lot to keep the crew of Jonnings at the front of the parade.

Needless to say, the amount of abuse of few dummies, will have Cobb, Crawford and Company working overtime to break the lead and get back into the winning habit.

On the other hand, the arrival of Tigers seems to have been just the thing needed to put some snap into the Cardinals, who, as far as the holding game, are performing again like sure enough ball players.

The popularity of the present visitors was attested again yesterday, when they won in a game in which the battle and bringing back to mind the old days, when the few who were big game and five-figure crowd were an everyday occurrence.

As for Cobb, he is led off with a safe one, but next time he was hit by a pitched ball and finally struck out.

Yes, Mr. Foster, you are doing quite well.

THERE will be considerable interest in the work of Dutch Leonard today if Carrigan sends him to the box, which is quite likely. This column has already called attention to the fact that Carrigan has pitched six games of ball this season and only runs have been scored up against him. If he can get by against the sluggers from Detroit, Carrigan can feel well pleased.

With the exception of Bejones' last game, the Red Sox pitchers have all worked well lately. But the red hot remains that the Sox are not yet hitting the ball the way they ought to hit it. It seems almost impossible for them to hit double figures.

About six or seven hits a game is their limit.

TY COBB, who makes a specialty of sliding to first base whenever there is a chance of a play, has been hit by a ball in the head.

THE BROOKLYN FEDERATE LEAD ALL the way in the first game of the season, but they were not able to hold it. The game ended in a tie, and the game was postponed.

THE AMERICAN NATIONAL AND PEDERSON, who has been a lot to keep the crew of Jonnings at the front of the parade.

Sidelights on Sports

By A. H. C. MITCHELL

FIRST thing you know GEORGE Foster will slip into Baseball Hall of Fame. A few more games like the one he pitched against the Tigers will gain him admission to the inner circle. Two hits the Tigers got—one a clean slate by Cobb and the other a two-bagger by Yeast.

Old Sam Crawford, the fence-buster, didn't bring in the fence-buster, but next time he was hit by a pitched ball and finally struck out.

BRAVES OUT TO DOWN PIRATES IN 2D BATTLE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 15.—With the first game carefully tucked away, the first win in many, many days, the Boston Braves are living right up to their name today and, according to all reports from their headquarters, the second battle today will give the way of the first.

The showing of the Boston team was certainly a surprise to the loyal local fans and their great rally in the eighth and ninth innings when they put over their four runs was worthy of a vote higher up in the National League race.

The score was 4 to 1 but this does not mean to tell the great uphull right meant by the Braves with the score standing 1 to 0 against them and the game all but finished or the work by Bill James who did the best work for the victors.

It is enough that Boston won and the Pirates are going after today's game in a manner that will leave no doubt as to just where and how the two teams compare.

Stallings has Perdue and, very ready for the mound, while Carrigan will pitch either McQuillan or Connelman.

WINKIES VS. GIANTS

"The individuals who are mainly responsible for both are Morgan & Co. They created the New York, New Haven & Hartford monopoly, just as they created other similar monopolies—in the same manner and for

Mr. Folk will no doubt drag out now the politicians implicated by Mr. Mellen's testimony. He will press the former president of the New Haven until other and more startling evidence of the villainies by which that corporation was wrecked shall be laid bare. He will show how the chief participants in that villainy—or at least such as are still living—may be brought to answer for their crimes. He hints that already

But McReynolds accuses his opposition to the Folk inquiry by declaring that out of it may come immunity for Mellen from criminal prosecution. Mellen has been immune ever since McReynolds took office, and will be immune as long as President Wilson is weak enough to permit his continuance there. For the immunity secretly granted by McReynolds the public gets no return. But if immunity should spring from the Folk investigation, we will at least have learned who are the big rigues in the New Haven robbery. In a letter to the Boston AMERICAN last June Mr. Hearst said:

Before anything effective can be done McReynolds must go. If he stays, responsibility for the immunity of the men who wrecked the New Haven finances and slaughtered its passengers rest squarely with the President, who holds him in the office disgraces.

"In the spending department, honesty is not the exception but the rule. The government's two budgets are started in simply that way: the leaders, palms itch for the public, the public, palms itch for the government, therefore, is to stop thieving. To use a shop metaphor, only the customer is to stop pilfering from the till."

"There is an unpleasant word, and it is not far from the truth. A money attaches to corruption in Mexico, because no one in official life is free from it. The word is: porfido. Porfirio Diaz kept order by allowing a few to enrich themselves, and the rest of the population was subjected or who tried to enter the privileged 'ring.' But the day came that he was not in the case, there was no porfido. Diaz was

A political cartoon depicting the Department of Justice. On the left, a woman in a classical dress, representing Justice, stands by a scale. A group of men in top hats, labeled with various titles like 'GRATER', 'EDITOR', 'LEGISLATOR', and 'POLITICIAN', are running away from her. One man is being crushed by a large, striped, tiger-like figure. The scene is set in a grand building with columns and a chandelier.

Dr. Octave Alais, head of the clinic in the hospital of St. Louis, Paris, reports that the "metinifer" baths have had a beneficial effect on the extraction of radium from the minerals in which it is found, affording the possibility of applying radioactivity to diseases of the skin. In some ways, superior in its results to the use of radium itself as a source of radioactivity.
